

Most of All

Karen Tinsley/New Desire Publishing/BMI
09/2006

Verse 1:

Today somebody's life was forever changed
A broken heart, a broken home
Life will never be the same
They wear a smile to try to hide the pain
But tomorrow when they wake up, they'll fight this battle again

Chorus:

So help me Lord to see the hurt in their eyes
Show me all the pain they're trying to hide
Give me words of hope and peace to help them on their way
But most of all let them see You in me today

Verse 2:

I don't want to take too lightly this burden that He gives
Remind me Lord that others may have lost the will to live
I once was in that valley of desperation and despair
I made it through because others lifted me in prayer

Repeat Chorus x2

But most of all let them see You in me today