

Sail On

Dr. Brenda J. Robinson

© 2005 New Desire Publishing/BMI

The ship's been cruising smoothly, the waters have been kind
Secure in navigation, everything looks fine
But then there comes a boisterous wind
And we find ourselves off course
Unsure of where we're going, we cry out to the Lord

Chorus:

Sail on through troubled waters
Place your faith in Me
I'm the captain of your ship
Of the winds and of the sea
Sail on through troubled waters
Your captain's at the stern
I'm well aware you're in my care
My child sail on

The storm is wreaking havoc
In your heart and in your mind
Peace has drifted out to sea
You have left God far behind
When you ask Him to come aboard
The waters become still
You've anchored to the Master
His instructions are to sail

Chorus

Tag:

Sail on when the waters get high
Sail on when the winds start to die
I'm well aware you're in my care
My child sail on